

We regret to inform you that the co-located Molding and Extrusion Conferences, scheduled for October 13-15, 2020 have been cancelled. We have been closely monitoring the COVID-19 crisis in Chicago and working with local officials in the city of Rosemont. Illinois Governor J.B. Pritzker’s recent guidelines states an event cannot take place with more than 50 people until there is a “...vaccine or highly effective treatment widely available or the elimination of any new cases over a sustained period”. The health and safety of our guests and staff is our top priority. With no vaccine or treatment available in the foreseeable future, we made the difficult decision to cancel these events.

We are continuing to work through details; however, we know many of you were planning to book travel arrangements soon and wanted to avoid any associated cancellation fees. We will continue to send updates as they become available. If you have already booked your hotel room through the events room block, please contact the hotel to cancel your reservation. Anything booked within our blocks will not be automatically refunded.

To exhibitors, your Plastics Technology representative will be in contact with you in the next 7 days to review next steps regarding credit options or refunds. Thank you for your continued support.

To attendees, if you have registered and paid for the Molding or Extrusion Conference you will be refunded 100%. This may take up to two weeks, and you will receive a confirmation in your email. If you do not receive a confirmation within that time, please reach out to Tarah Rauch.

- Stay Tuned! We have some exciting FREE digital offerings in the works!
- Subscribe to receive the PT eNewsletters to stay in-the-know.

To speakers, we will keep your contact information on file and encourage you to resubmit for our 2021 call for papers. We may also reach out to you regarding other editorial coverage or digital presentation options throughout the year.

While we are disappointed that we will not be able to connect in person with you this year, we want to thank you for your patience and understanding through these challenging times. Please stay tuned for more information, and we wish you and your families well.

Best,
